Louisville is expected to grow further as a gateway from Asia to Kentucky and Tennessee, where the automobile industry is showing remarkable growth. There are already flights to/from Narita and Osaka, and in addition, under consideration are flights to/from Nagoya after Chubu International Airport opens in February 2005. This will significantly reduce the lead-time of air cargo from the Chubu area.

The purpose of this relocation is primarily to secure space (1,171 m²), which is approximately twice as large as the existing warehouse. This strengthens our logistics business where an increase in demand is expected. This enables us to use the facility as CFS (Container Freight Station), which allows us to handle ULD (Unit Load Device) cargo by ourselves, resulting in prevention of damages to the cargo. These are just some of the quality services we offer to customers.
